Friday 1st – last day of term, non uniform day

Dear All.

I hope you all had a lovely half term and were not blown too far with the winds from the storms – I'm still looking for my wheelie bin that was blown somewhere!!

I am sure that most of you are aware that the last of the Covid restrictions are lifted now and people are being asked to use their own judgment around keeping safe. If your child contracts Covid then please do keep them off school until they test negative but otherwise ALL children should be in school daily. I will keep parents informed of any changes within school, around mask wearing, as they happen. In light of the changes, we will be offering a choice of face to face or online parent meetings in March which will be a first for some of our parents. I look forward to seeing many of you in school.

The school's attendance figure is slowly improving but we need everyone to have their child in school to reach the 96% figure set by the Department for Education.

It is lovely, once again, to be able to arrange school visits and trips without fear of them being cancelled. We try very hard to make these trips either free or a very minimal charge. Unfortunately, we have cancelled trips in the past as not enough parents have contributed. Please do your best to send in contributions for trips as we can only subsidise up to a point.

Thank you for your ongoing support.

BOOK DAY

World book day is on Thursday 3rd March. The theme this year will be fairy tales and traditional tales.

Children can come to school dressed as a character from a fairy tale.

There will be a 'book swap' in each classroom, where books in good condition are swapped for another.

NURSERY September 2022

Nursery applications have been coming into school during the last couple of months and we will soon be allocating spaces. If you know of any families with children born between 1 September 2018 and 31 August 2019, please ask them to collect an application form from the school office. We will provide help completing it if needed.

Cleaner/kitchen role

We have a vacancy for a part time cleaner within school.

The role is an early start which may well suit someone out there. We need someone to clean specific areas from 7.00am to 8.30am, Monday to Friday.
